A SPANISH BULL FIGHT.

Vivid Description of the National Spanish
Sport as Witnessed By Dr. W. E.
French in South America.

Editor Daily News:—

Bull fighting must still be called the national amusement of the Spaniards. Next to bull fights are even now patronized by royalty and nobility, and by thousands of men, women and children in every large Spanish town.

Of course, this bull fight was to take place on Sunday. Most bull fights do. The theology of the Spaniard is said to be something like this: "As God worked six days and rested on the seventh, so we will rest six days and go on the seventh to the bull fight." Scarcely has the sunbeamed congregation risen from its knees, when it begins to loudly clamor: "A los toros! A los toros!" (to the bulls).

On this particular Sunday afternoon the amphitheater was swarming with people. The murmur of thousands of voices; the cries of vendors of oranges and fresh water; all formed a confused roar comparable to nothing I ever heard.

At length the shrill blast of a trumpet heralds the entrance of the principal actors in the coming tragedy. At the head rode two picadors, lance in hand, and dressed in brilliant colors. Next came the chulos, bearing on their arms the scarlet cloaks with which to infuriate the bull.

These were followed by four or five banderillas, and last of all came the matadors, who deal the bull his death blow. All except the picadors wore short breeches, silk stockings, and vests and jackets embroidered in silver and gold. Their hair, which was long, was arranged in a tight twist at the back of the head. After the procession had paced around the ring, and formalities over, the gate leading to the den swung open to admit the bull.

He stood a moment, dazed by the cheers and lights, then, catching sight of the chulos, who stood waving their red cloaks, he lowered his head and dashed furiously at them. Nimble as squirrels, these men leaped over the railing into the space beyond his reach.

With a snort, the bull glared around

METHODIST REVIVAL.

Revival Services Will Begin on Sunday Evening And Continue During The Week.—Evangelist Here.

Rev. F. M. Dowlin, pastor of the First Methodist Church, has arranged for a series of revival services to take place next week beginning Sunday evening.

The services will take place every night except Saturday.

Evangelist Radcliff, of New York, who is spending some time in the city, will be present and assist in the service on Sunday evening. During next week there will be other speakers of prominence.

The services give promise of being largely attended, as the congregation of the Methodist Church is a large one, and it is hoped that members will bring their friends.

A series of special services began last Wednesday evening, which are being largely attended. This evening there will be a love feast.

Wedding Anniversary

Last evening fifty people assembled at the Department House, Daytona Beach, and marched in a body to the Beach House, giving to Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Harroun a genuine surprise, it being their twenty-third wedding anniversary.

In short order the ladies present had the bride decked in wedding attire, and when the veil of huge proportions was lifted, instead of having been a wife of twenty-three years, the bride might have passed for a young lady of so many summers. Mr. Cretur, of New Corners Town, O., gave the bride away, Mr. Lake acting as best man, and Mrs. Lake, an oldtime friend and schoolmate, as bridesmaid. To the strains of the Wedding March, played by Mrs. Brophy, the party marched into the large parlor, where, on pledging that neither would elope in the meantime, they were married for twenty-three years more.

On behalf of those present, Rev. A. Smith presented Mr. and Mrs. Harroun with some beautiful hand-painted china. Light refreshments were served, and the rest of the evening passed in vocal and instrumental music, recitations and selections from the graphophone. The party disbanded at a late hour, having spent a most enjoyable evening.

THURSDAY AT PALMETTO CLUB.

Japanese Day Proved an Enjoyable Occasion.—Stories of Japanese Life Interestingly Told.

Japanese Day at the Palmetto Club Thursday afternoon, was one of the most enjoyable afternoons spent by the members of the club this season.

The handsome club room was appropriately decorated for the occasion, and the members are under obligations to Thomas Oyama for the Japanese articles that were kindly loaned the club, and which were displayed to great advantage in decorating the room. The decorations were the subject of much comment.

Mrs. B. F. Marsh spoke of her trip to Japan in an interesting manner. Every one listened attentively to her remarks. She handled her subject in an able manner.

Mrs. Wm. Nash read sketches of Japanese life that were highly entertaining. A bevy of beautiful young ladies served tea, while the orchestra discoursed music.

Misses Jessie Brown and Ella Williams played a duet that was greatly enjoyed.

Miss Miriam E. Johnson had charge of the decorations, which reflected much credit. She was the recipient of many congratulations because of her good work.

The next meeting will be held on March 15th, at which time the theme that will be discussed will be the Department of Education.

Attraction Tonight.

It goes without saying that the theater-going public become tired of the continuous grind of cheap farce comedy and melodrama, and it is a well-known fact that comic opera has been seriously neglected outside the larger cities for the past few years, and even there it has waned more into farce. Theatergoers are continually looking for something new, and this time they will not be disappointed when "The Beggar Prince" will be presented here by an all-star cast, a handsome chorus and especially fine costumes at the Opera House this evening.

COLONNADES BALL GRAND SUCCESS.

One of the Most Enjoyable Functions of the Season Given Thursday Evening.—A Pretty Scene.

The Colonnades scored a great success in their annual ball, which was given in the dining room of this most popular hostelry last evening.

Present were a large number of the most fashionable people in the city, and they are all loud in their praises of the manner in which they were entertained.

For this occasion, the dining room was beautifully decorated in palms, ferns and other tropical foliage. A myriad of colored electric lights greatly helped to beautify the pretty room.

A special feature of the occasion was the excellent music furnished by the Colonnades Orchestra, assisted by the Neopolitan Orchestra. Both were at their best and the guests of the occasion seemed to never tire of the music.

The gowns worn by the ladies in attendance were exquisite.

The management of the house spared no expense in getting up the most elaborate refreshments obtainable and they were thoroughly enjoyed.

The Neopolitan Quartette, of New York City, Prof. N. Marinaro, leader, delighted the guests of the Ivy Lane Inn last evening with artistic playing.

This quartette are thorough musicians, playing high grade music delightfully, and are becoming very popular in Daytona for social functions. They will be heard frequently at The Inn during the lunch hour.

Charles W. Hanson, of Cincinnati, who has been a winter visitor to Daytona for a number of years, has purchased, through Bingham & Thompson, a lot on the peninsula north of Botefahr homestead, which he will build on and occupy in the near future. The handsome property on the south is offered for sale through Bingham & Thompson.

A Poem for Today

THE OLD TUNES

By Moira O'Neill

BOY we had belonged to us, an' oh, but he was gay.
An' we'd sooner hear him sing'n' than we'd hear the birds in May.
For a bullfinch was a fool to him, an' all ye had to do
Only name the song ye wanted, an' he'd sing it for ye through.
Wid his "Up now, there!" an' his "Look about and thrify for it."
Faith, he had the queerest songs of any ye could find—
"Popples in the Corn," too, an' "Mollie, Never Cry For It!"
"The pretty Girl I Courted" an' "There's Trouble in the Wind."

Music is deludherin', ye'll hear the people say.
The more they be deludhered then the better is their case.
I would sooner miss my drink than never hear a fiddle play.
And since Hughie up an' left us this has been another place.
Arrah, come back, lad, an' we'll love ye when ye sing for us—
Sure we're gettin' oulder, an' ye'll love ye come too late—
Sing "Girl, Dear!" an' "The Bess Among the Ling" for us.
Still I'd shake a foot to hear "The Pigeon on the Gate."

Oh, Hughie had the music, but there come on him a change.
He should ha' stayed the boy he was an' never grown a man.
I seen the shadow on his face before his time to range,
An' I knew he sung for sorrow as a winter robin can.
But that's not the way! Oh, I'd feel my heart grow light again,
Hughie, if I'd hear ye at the "Pleasant Summer Rain."
Ould sweet tunes, sure my wrong 'ud all come right again;
Listenin' for an hour, I'd forget the feel o' pain.

Sometimes six or seven bulls are thus killed in an afternoon.

A Poem for Today

SOLITUDE

By Lord Byron

HERE is a pleasure in the pathless woods,
There is a rapture on the lonely shore,
There is society where none intrudes,
By the deep sea, and music in its roar.
I love not man the less, but nature more,
From these our interviews, in which I steal
To mingle with the universe, and feel
What I can ne'er express, yet cannot all conceal.

A DAY'S WAGE

By Margaret E. Sangster

LOVE wore a suit of hoddin' gray,
And toiled within the fields all day.
Love wielded pick and carried pack,
And bent to heavy loads the back.
Though meager food and sorely lashed,
The only wage love ever asked,
A child's wan face to kiss at night,
A woman's smile by candlelight.

Rudimentary Hind Limbs.
Snakes are not the only animals which exhibit the possession of rudimentary hind limbs. In the whale tribe there is no evidence externally of hind limbs. The fore limbs in them are converted into the "flippers," or swimming paddles. Yet when the skeleton is examined traces of a haunch and attached rudimentary thigh bones are found. There is developed in certain kinds of whales a bony piece representing the haunch. The thigh bone is distinct, but there is a mere rudiment attached to it, representing the shin bone or tibia of other animals.

Ancient Remedies For Coughs.
The hiccough seems to be a modern and dangerous disease, but the ancients knew it and prescribed remedies that might now be tried advantageously. Galen recommended sneezing; Aetius approved of a cupping instrument with great heat to the breast; Alexander believed in an oxymel of squills; Alsharavius made use of refrigerant drafts; Rhazes put his trust in calefactants, such as cummin, pepper, rue and the like, in vinegar; Rogerius looked kindly on calefactant, attenuant and carminative medicines.

The "Giant" Bell.
Russia is famed for the manufacture of great bells. The "Giant," cast in Moscow in the sixteenth century, weighed nearly 320,000 pounds and required twenty-four men to ring it. In 1782 it fell, but its fragments were recast along with other metal into a bell which weighed 445,000 pounds, the metal of which alone is valued at $300,000.

Mrs. Hoag, the elocutionist, was exceptionally good, and her work was greatly appreciated. The various tricks of M. Water were among the features of the evening.

Bin Measurements.
To measure corn find number of cubic feet in crib, then multiply by 9 and divide by 20, which gives the amount in bushels. To determine amount of shelled corn to be obtained from crib of corn in ear find cubic feet of corn, divide by 2, and the product will be the number of bushels of shelled corn, as two cubic feet of corn if sound and dry will produce one bushel of shelled corn.

To find the number of bushels of apples, potatoes, etc., in a bin multiply the length, breadth and thickness together and this product by 8 and point off one figure in the product for decimals.—Iowa State Register and Farmer.

A Dilemma.
A well known college professor offers the two horns of a dilemma to advocates of coeducation.
"If you lecture to twenty boys and twenty girls in the same room," he asks, "will the boys attend to the lecture or to the girls?"
Of course the coeducationalist, to be consistent, must say that they will listen to the lecture.
"Well, if they do," replies the dean, "they are not worth lecturing to."—Harper's.

Muscles.
Many muscles are located at a considerable distance from the point where their force is to be exerted and are connected with the point of operation by slender strings or tendons. This is a provision of nature solely for convenience. If all the muscles whose power is concentrated in the hand and foot were located in the hands or feet these members would assume an inordinate size and weight and become more troublesome than useful.

Mrs. U. S. Robertson left Sunday to visit her son and his bride at Stuart.

Mrs. Wm. Johnson has moved her palmetto hat factory to the building on the corner of Duvalton Avenue and Lafayette Street, where she keeps a stock of fancy articles.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton and their little daughter Kathryn, who have been visiting the former's uncle, Joseph White, at his lovely winter home on the banks of the Halifax, left Sunday for their home in Ocean Grove. Mr. Hamilton is postmaster there and consequently cannot be away very long. They were very much pleased with Port Orange and Florida. On Saturday afternoon, the day before they left, Miss Elizabeth White entertained a number of friends at her home on the River Front. After playing games of various kinds, a table was spread under the trees and a bounteous luncheon was enjoyed by the guests.

Those who took part in the play, "Sunbonnets," acted their parts very well, and the hall was crowded. The entertainment began with a solo, by Mrs. Kirby, of Illinois, accompanied by Miss DuBois. Miss Ruth Brohm also sang a solo. Refreshments were served, after which dancing was the order of the evening.

The entertainment committee of the Library Club having called in so much outside help for the performance of February 21st, all those who so kindly assisted were invited to attend the regular meeting of the 22nd. Nearly all the members being present, there were, with the guests about twenty-five. The regular club program was replaced by the singing of patriotic songs, after which afternoon tea was served.

The president made a brief address, thanking those who had given their services to the club and congratulating them on the fact that the play had been produced with great success. All being due to the perfect good feeling shown throughout by all the players. Mrs. Kirby, whose singing had contributed greatly to the success of Wednesday's entertainment, added to the obligation by singing some of the patriotic ballads in which her exquisite voice is best heard.

DAYTONA AND ITS ATTRACTIONS.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its fairest expanse and midway between its source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29, seventy-four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high hammock land that was crowned by nature with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees is the town of to-day, with its beautiful cottages and well-graded walks and streets. The result is that all along the wide avenues that intersect the town are lovely live and water oaks and hickories, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palmettos, glossy-leaved magnolias, fragrant bays and coral-berried hollies, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the amplexicaule climb and cling among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. This river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions. The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are all 100 feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half-mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health-giving breezes from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well-graded, marled and shelled roads and streets, rendering it and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long-distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, trees and avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those securing homes in the South, and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinements of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, good public and private schools, stores, hotels, laundry, meat markets, novelty works, an opera house, electric lights for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory, Lily Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

Water Supply
which is derived from numerous flowing wells, of which there are probably 800 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and this depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away. The Population of Daytona proper is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach, which are properly a part of the town and population.

Daytona Beach lies one mile east of the town. It is approached by three good bridges over the river and well-graded avenues, and is the principal summer resort south of St. Augustine. It has more tourists during the summer than all other places south of that city combined, and is also becoming a favorite winter resort. The beach is wide, firm and smooth, by many considered the finest in the world, and the surf bathing is safe and excellent summer and winter. People who have tried Northern and Western summer resorts declare that there are none so perfect - comfort as Daytona beach.

Automobile Race Meet.
The Florida East Coast Automobile Association conducts an annual race meet on the beach, which has now a universal reputation as the greatest automobile race course in the world. The Daytona-Ormond Beach is hard as sand, and an ideal stretch of thirty or more miles without a break makes it the natural racing ground for America.

At low tide the beach is bare for 300 feet and neither carriage wheel, bicycle or pedestrian can make a hardly visible imprint on the smooth sand. It is no uncommon sight to see sail-rigged yachts speeding with the velocity of the wind before a stiff breeze along the smooth beach, thus affording the most exhilarating sport known to man. Besides these, miles of hard-shelled, palm-leafed sand, and the average depth of the surf measures about two feet. A continuous gentle swell rolls in from the ocean from one to two feet in depth under normal conditions, making the beach an attractive and absolutely safe place for surf-bathing. Here the infant as well as the gray-haired veteran of many summers, can safely enjoy the luxury of a sea bath throughout the larger part of the year while the strong and expert swimmer ventures out further to test his strength and skill in battling with the inexhaustible powers of the mighty ocean.

The Peninsula
[ring between river and ocean is one-half mile wide, and is being rapidly improved, and there are many fine cottages and several good hotels, a opera house, two ocean piers, beach pavilion and a large casino.

A Remarkable Feature
at Daytona has been the yearly improvement in the style and value of the buildings that are being erected for homes. Men of capital of the North and West have become awakened to its advantages for winter residences, and valuable lots are being purchased and costly homes, beautiful in design and finish, are being erected, and beautiful homes, the abodes of wealth and culture are multiplying. Seabreeze (City Beautiful) and Goodall are settlements on the Ocean side of the peninsula across the Halifax River from Daytona.

At the foot of Ocean Boulevard, Seabreeze, a pier reaches 600 feet across the beach into the swelling surf of the ocean. This pier is a favorite resort of those who delight in the sport of fishing. The surf here abounds in trout, pompano, yellowtail, croaker, drum, sheepshead and many other varieties of edible fish. During the fall season the famous sea bass affords royal sport, and it has been no uncommon occurrence to land a thousand pounds of this gaudy fish in an afternoon. Individuals of them ranging from fifteen to thirty-five pounds in weight. Not only does the ocean offer this splendid sport but the Halifax River, only half a mile back of the ocean, is equally famous for its fine fishing, and the varieties that abound in the ocean are present in the river. Hunting and fishing good. Experienced guides and dogs may be had at reasonable prices.
